When you make a tax-deductible donation to the Cape May Film Society, you're helping us to:

- Host our Film Festival, of the most important arts events in Cape May.
- Bring filmmakers to Cape May for workshops and special presentations
- Conduct Special Seminars and workshops throughout the year
- PLUS! You help children in our region through the Cape May Film Academy
  - The Academy has helped hundreds of students since 2001.
  - Alumni: One student works for NFL Films, another started his own studio, and another entered a film to the Sundance Film Festival.
  - Our work with at-risk youth in summer school programs and adolescent homes helps reach out to troubled youth.

Since 2001, we have hosted an annual Film Festival that continues to set the standard for festivals. We also conduct seminars and workshops all year round for youth and adults throughout the region. And since our beginnings, the Cape May Film Academy has been the educational outreach of Society. The Academy has always after school programming, a summer film camp, and a special one-day workshop immediately before our Festival. We have reached out to hundreds of students in the region, and the results have been noteworthy.

One of our students who came to the program in its early days has gone on to work for NFL Films. Another has opened his own video/sound studio in the area. A third student has gone on to make his own independent documentary in Kenya, Africa that focuses on orphans in the Sub-Saharan territory. His film is a candidate for the 2009 Sundance Film Festival, and his film has actually inspired one orphanage to make much-needed upgrades to its operations. Clearly, we can see that the work of the Academy changes lives in ways that are both local and global in scope.

And we have only intensified our commitment to the youth in our area. We have increased our efforts to reach out more to at-risk students in the region. We created a film with students in a local summer school program, we are currently hosting the same program at an adolescent home for troubled youth run by local behavioral health service provider, Cape Counseling, We are also planning to bring our workshop to Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Atlantic/Cape May Counties.

Cape May Film Society is a part of the community, providing a world-class Festival, great workshops and seminars, and important educational programming. Please donate!
